

// SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Wouter Jansen (1972, Amsterdam, The Netherlands) graduated from the Netherlands Film Academy in both Film Editing and Sound Design (1992-1996), after studying Sound Engineering at the Santbergen Media Institute in Hilversum in 1991, which was preceded by grammar school in Amsterdam (1984-1990).

In his capacity as film editor, he has mostly edited feature films, TV series and short films, many of which have been nominated and/or awarded at various film festivals around the world—such as the International Emmy Awards in New York, the San Francisco International Film Festival, the Prix Europa in Berlin, Youth Awards at Giffoni Hollywood Los Angeles and Reel2Reel in Vancouver. In 2020, he was nominated for the Golden Calf for Best Editing (the Dutch Academy Award) for his work on Promise of Pisa.

Besides being a film editor, Wouter is a returning guest teacher at the Netherlands Film Academy. He is co-founder and board member of the Netherlands association of Cinema Editors (NCE), a member of the Dutch Academy For Film (DAFF), the European Film Academy (EFA), British Film Editors (BFE), and an International Affiliate Member of American Cinema Editors (ACE).
